

BENEFITS OF LEASING TECHNOLOGY EQUIPMENT

RACO partners with industry knowledgeable financing organizations that can implement cost-effective leasing solutions that provide our customers the liquidity, predictability and flexibility to acquire and manage their technology equipment requirements. In many cases, customized leasing options can be designed for our customers specific needs to ensure short and long term technology goals.

BENEFITS:

LOWER UP-FRONT COSTS

Leasing reduces up-front costs, enabling you to obtain the equipment you need now without impacting cash flow. It preserves working capital and existing credit lines, freeing up cash for other operational expenses.

PREDICTABLE MONTHLY PAYMENTS

Leasing enables you to pay over time, rather than invest a lump sum up front. Lease payments can be tailored to budget levels or revenue streams and may be tax deductible.

PROTECTION AGAINST OBSOLETE TECHNOLOGY

Leasing enables you to stay on top of technological equipment advances and stay ahead of your competitors. You have the option to add on or upgrade during the lease term and, at the end of the lease, choose to return or purchase the equipment.

FLEXIBLE PAY STRUCTURES

Leasing provides flexibility that purchasing does not offer including: payment structures that match cash flows, business cycles or specific projects, and multiple end-of-lease options.

ABILITY TO BUNDLE COSTS

Leasing can offer you the ability finance hardware, software, and services in one transaction. The convenience of one-stop shopping offers an immediate, affordable way for you to meet your business needs.

To learn if leasing technology equipment is right for you, call 1-800-446-1991.

Consult with a leasing specialist or financial professional to determine if a leasing option is best for your organization. Certain solution leases may not be approved due to credit risk or to the high percentage of software and services contained in the solution.

RACO Industries is a leading national integrator of handheld and wireless mobility solutions designed to enhance productivity and effectiveness of the mobile workforce within or outside of the four walls of their organization. Our customer base of logistics, healthcare, manufacturing and service organizations rely on us to improve efficiencies, help reduce costs and gain new business opportunities.